a) – Planting density

The vines have a minimum planting density of 6,000 plants per hectare. The spacing between rows may not exceed 2.10 metres and the spacing between plants within the same row may not be less than 0.80 metre. From the date of approval of the present specification, the grubbing-up of rows within a parcel may not lead to a spacing between the widest rows of more than 3 metres.

b) – Pruning rules

- Pruning is completed by 15 May.

- The wines come from vines pruned according to the following provisions: short pruning (trained in gobelet, fan, or single, double or "charmet" Royat cordon) with a maximum of 10 free eyes per plant. Each plant bears 3 to 5 spurs with a maximum of 2 free eyes each. With a view to rejuvenation, each plant may also bear a spur with a maximum of 2 free eyes pruned on a water shoot growing from old wood.

During formative pruning or a change of pruning method, the vines are pruned with a maximum of 12 free eyes per plant.

c) – Trellising and foliage height rules

- Where the average spacing between rows is greater than or equal to 1.50 metres, the vines are trained on a fixed trellis.

- The trellising is careful, solid and inert, with at least one carrying wire and one pair of lifting wires.

- The height of trellised foliage must be at least equal to 0.6 times the average spacing between rows, the height of trellised foliage being measured between the lower limit of the foliage, set at least 0.30 metre above the ground, and the upper trimming limit, set at least 0.20 metre above the upper trellising wire(s).

- For untrellised vines, the height of foliage must also be at least equal to 0.6 times the average spacing between rows, the height of foliage being measured from at least 0.10 metre above the ground.

d) – Average maximum load per parcel

The average maximum load per parcel is set at 10,000 kilograms per hectare.

The parcels are managed so as to ensure a good overall cultivation condition of the vine, in particular its sanitary condition and the upkeep of its soil.

g) – Establishment and planting of the vineyard

Before each new planting, every operator must carry out a physico-chemical analysis of the soil of the parcel in order to have all the information needed to know the wine-growing situation and its potential.

2° – Other cultivation practices

a) – In order to preserve the characteristics of the soils, which constitute a fundamental element of the terroir:

- Permanent grass cover of the headlands is compulsory.

- Where the spacing between rows is greater than 1.50 metres, the inter-row must have a controlled plant cover, spontaneous or sown, at least during winter and early spring.

- Any substantial modification of the morphology, the subsoil, the arable layer or the structuring elements of the landscape of a parcel intended for the production of the controlled designation of origin is prohibited, with the exception of classic deep-ploughing works.

b) – Vine plantings and replacements may only be made with healthy plant material that has undergone hot-water treatment or any other method making it possible to combat flavescence dorée.

8. Declaration of equipment for TSE

Every operator holding a concentration apparatus must declare it upon purchase to the defence and management body, specifying its specifications. The defence and management body keeps an up-to-date list of operators holding such equipment and sends it each year to the National Institute of Origin and Quality at the latest on 1 September.

Every operator using a service provider declares it to the defence and management body, which draws up the list of these operators and sends it each year to the National Institute of Origin and Quality at the latest on 1 September.
